

PAUL H. BROWN IS NAMED SECRETARY OF STATE BY JESTER

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 12.—(P)—Gov.-Elect Beauford H. Jester's fourth state appointment is 65-year-old Paul H. Brown of Hargrave, named yesterday to succeed Claude Isbell as Secretary of State.

Brown was Jester's gubernatorial campaign manager last summer and the two were friends while students in the University of Texas and while serving in World War I.

Jester's latest appointee will not be taking office immediately when Isbell's term expires Jan. 21, but must wait for the Senate to receive and confirm his nomination.

Senate Approves.

Announcing the appointment, Jester said that Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, the state senator for Brown's district, already had voted his approval of the nomination.

"I should have said in preamble to my announcement that Paul Brown is a very fine lawyer," Jester commented.

Brown received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1916. He was editor of the school's student newspaper, The Daily Texan, when Brown was a member of the staff.

Veteran of War.

The newly-appointed Secretary of State began his practice of law in Kennes City, Kennes County, was interrupted by the first World War, then returned to continue his practice there until 1929, when he moved to Harlingen, Cameron County.

Brown was a member of the unauthorized practices committee of the State Bar Association for seven years and served two years as chairman of the grievance committee of the State Bar of Texas.

He was also a member of the executive committee of the ex-students Association of the University of Texas for two years.

Spends Summer Here.

Col. Brown spent last summer in Corsicana where he directed the gubernatorial campaign for Jester and Mrs. Brown was here a portion of the time. The family has been living in Dallas for some time but plan to move to Austin in January. Mrs. Brown also is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Col. and Mrs. Brown's two sons, Halston Brown and Paul H. Brown, Jr., both veterans of World War II, are now practicing law and at the present time, Halston at the University of Texas and Paul H. Jr., at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

The Secretary of State-designate served in the 36th division in World War I, was recalled to active duty in July, 1942, and was assigned as chief of officer procurement branch and had charge of the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. From his office a thousand officers were recommended and commissioned. He was promoted to colonel on March 21, 1948. He is a Mason, Rotarian, Elk and prominent in American Legion circles.

Reports from Austin said that Col. Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas, a member of the Democratic executive committee, and Tom L. Tyson, Corsicana, and friends of Jester, spent Thursday in Austin in consultation with the governor-elect, presumably regarding appointments.

YEAR OF ELECTIONS—EVERYTHING FROM SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO BEER PRESENTED VOTERS IN 11 MONTHS

the next regular term congressman. Johnson resigned to accept an appointment as a federal tax judge in Washington, a 12-year job.

Johnson had served almost 24 years with a flock of elections, but 1946 did fairly well in the marathon of casting ballots for or against propositions in Corsicana and Navarro county.

There were ten different elections we mean—dates—end on all three of these occasions, there was double balloting.

Questions decided by the sovereign electorate ranged from school trustees, city officials, county, state and national officers, amendments dealing with pensions for city and county employees, paying an honest debt long overdue because of a technicality at a state school, to a decisive vote to overturn the return of legalized sale of beer.

Some Changes Made.

The year saw many new faces selected to have charge of the offices at the courthouse and in school boards. This year saw Navarro Junior College approved and developed into a creditable institution of higher learning with a full curriculum and a fine athletic program—all within the space of a few months.

Navarro county was remodeled in 1946 since Beauford H. Jester, a native son and railroad commissioner, displayed a sensible gubernatorial campaign success to become the first Navarro countian to be sent to guide the Texas ship of state. (Jester's late father, George T. Jester, served as lieutenant governor of Texas in the 1890s.)

New Congressman.

There is also a new member of Congress from the Sixth Texas district—Col. Olin E. Teague of Brownwood, who was elected to fill the unexpired term of Luther A. Johnson, resigned, and also as

Horse Is Unsold; Old Fine Is Paid; Negro Is Unhappy

Last year a negro man charged another negro, who lived near here, with aggravated assault. Authorities who went to arrest the assailant found that he had left for parts unknown.

Johnson had served almost 24 years with a flock of elections, but 1946 did fairly well in the marathon of casting ballots for or against propositions in Corsicana and Navarro county.

The first election came April 3 when city elections were held in all incorporated towns of the county.

The upshot was that the State-mayors took proper and formal steps and became legal residents of Corsicana. Within the next few days the general and his wife will go down to visit the "old" hometown where they will live when he retires. Then they will attend the inauguration in Austin at which their fellow townsmen Beauford Jester takes over the helm of state.

Robert M. Cooksey got started in earnest on a pasture development program on his farm near Chatfield last week. Buffalo and Bermuda grass are planned for 50 acres of formerly cultivated land.

Bermuda grass sprouts are now being used and the heavy land. The Bermuda grass roots are harvested on a sandy field and hauled to the farm and put out in three foot rows, dropping a spring every 2 or 4 feet. A buster is being used to open up the furrows, the grass is dropped, the land bedded and a harrow is used to level the ground.

Cooksey has found that one man can sod two acres in a ten hour day. One man can harvest enough grass roots in a day to sod about 3 acres.

One mile of terraces were completed on the G. L. Tate farm last week. Excellent outlets were available on which to empty terrace water.

E. L. Watson sprig sodden 8 individual terrace outlets on December 5th.

A. T. Watson completed construction of 3.2 miles of terraces on his farm in the Barry Conservation Group. The terraces empty

Two weeks' extra salary for all full-time employees of the J. C. Penney and Company has been authorized by the board of directors to employees who had been with the company all of 1946, according to W. H. Smith, local manager, and on a proportionate basis for those employed less than a year. All Penney associates throughout the country share in this payment except those who are members of the management staff and whose earnings are determined largely by the company's long-standing profit-sharing plan.

Smith said this payment was authorized because of the unusual business situation and results of the past year. He emphasized his statement, however, that this is not a Christmas bonus in the usual sense but was due only to extra payment resulting from extra business and earnings and was non-recurrent. The company several years ago substituted a thrift and profit-sharing plan for the more usual Christmas bonus and into this plan is annually paid a proportionate share of company earnings.

Deadline Near For Rent Registration

Registrations were coming in at the area rent control office in a brisk manner Thursday as the Friday deadline approached. All housing must be registered by Dec. 15, J. S. Murchison, area rent control director, declared.

Final date for registration at the local office will be Friday since the office will be open on Saturday or Sunday. Blank registration forms may be obtained at the office and can be mailed, but must bear a postmark not later than midnight, Dec. 15.

All dwellings must be registered. Those dwellings renting three or more sleeping rooms will be registered in the hotel classification. All other housing units must be registered as dwellings. This includes housing renting less than three sleeping rooms.

Landlords failing to register are subject to a fine of a minimum of $50 or three times the amount of the refund. An estimated 50 per cent of the registrations are still to come in over the three county area. More than half of Navarro county's registrations are in, Murchison estimates.

CORSICANA CATCHES SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS IN GAILY-DECORATED STREETS, BRIGHT SHOP WINDOWS

BY BONNIE WRIGHT BINFORD
Daily Sun Staff.

Symbolic play an important part in the observance of Christmas.

The joyful bells, the holly wreath, the polka-dot tree, the star-tipped tree are symbols both holy and pagan of the almost universal festival exalting the brotherhood of man.

Symbolic, too, are the lights which burn through the season at the heart of every community, large and small, signifying that America's Main Street, from its tiniest cubby-hole shop to its most fashionable salon, is holiday-decorated.

Confirmation Of Demo Nominess By GOP Likely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(P)—Republican National Committee man R. E. Creager of Brownsville, Tex., believes that the Senate, controlled by the Republican party, will confirm any of President Truman's nominations for federal judgeships submitted in the next year, but that vacancies which arise within a few months prior to the next presidential election will be held over.

Creager, who has been conferring here for the past week with leaders of his party was questioned yesterday during an impromptu press conference about the policy of Republicans in the Senate would take on President's nominations for federal judgeships.

One such appointment in Texas is pending and three others may arise in the Senate during the next two years. Noting this situation, Creager said:

"It is my personal belief that the Senate will act on nominations submitted within the next year or so, but you can rest assured they will be scrutinized carefully."

"There will almost arise within a few months prior to the next presidential election most likely will be held over."

Many Toys Available.

Alongside the nursery equipment, including a combination music-box and savings bank, is a very desirable record-changer almost identical in design. Significant is the fact that price-tags on both items are considerably below last year's level.

The cavalcade of toys includes many more metal articles and the quality of the individual toy, by and large, is a vast improvement upon that of the last Christmas season. There is infinitely greater variety, too, and better prospects of filling those childish petitions outlined in Santa Claus letters.

Christmas Takes Over.

Christmas is not confined to the commercial section of the town. The lights and the decorations are less in evidence in the residential sections, although already trees covered in glistening beyond cottage windows and some exterior decorations are to be noted. The number will grow in direct proportion to the number of days before Christmas.

Christmas is, to sum the matter up, at the heart of the town and in the heart of the individual.

Mexicans Celebrate Virgin Of Guadalupe Miracle Anniversary

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 12.—(P)—Devout pilgrims from all parts of Mexico came today to visit the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe, on the outskirts of Mexico City, built on the spot where in 1531 the Virgin Mary is believed to have made a series of miraculous appearances before a simple Indian peasant.

According to the miracle, the Virgin, garbed as an Indian princess, appeared before Juan Diego, a recently baptized native, and instructed him to tell his bishop to build a church where she stood. She gave him a mantle full of roses plucked at the barren spot in proof of her divine command. The mantle was found later to bear her portrait.

CHRISTMAS SEASON. Of all the fun that comes and goes, The laughter and the dance and song, The musicals and comic shows, The spots that always draw a laugh, The bridge at which I'm always wrong, The dinner parties—host or guest.

For very joy the whole year long, I like the Christmas season best.

Of all that laughter here bestows And frees the mind from spur and thong;

Prods care and bids it move along,

I like the Christmas season best.

This could be simply told in prose, For tales are strict for verse and song;

But I am out of rhymes for "ong,"

And though 'tis faultily expressed,

Of all the joys that come along,

I like the Christmas season best.

Refrain.

For tree and wreath I beat the gone;

For mirth that soothes the troubled breast,

For love and laughter, dance and song,

I like the Christmas season best.

COLLECTOR'S ITEM

A rack containing 144 lines a little barber shop in Milford, Mass. Many of them have been there since 1888, ever since the two proprietors went into business. One barber is 88, the other 86. They have been together all these years, without a rift in their friendship, and without a vacation.

That's a record all right for partnership. But a good many people who read this story will be even more interested in those shaving mugs. Collecting these has become a lively fad with antique-chasers. Time was when every well groomed man had his mug. Some of these china cups were elaborately decorated with flower garlands, or with symbols of the owner's trade like a picture of horse and coach for the stage driver, chisel and saw for the carpenter, and most of them carried the owner's initials in gold gilt letters. Those two octogenarian barbers will have no trouble disposing of the relics of days that are gone if ever they need to turn an honest dollar outside their regular trade.

HURTING ALL LABOR

Whatever the outcome of the recent coal strike, John L. Lewis has given organized labor a serious setback. This will be true even if he succeeds in gaining wage raises for his miners. In fact, it will be true as result of such success.

One reason is that the effort for pay boosts is ill-timed. Industry in this period of difficult readjustment from war to peace cannot afford higher wages at present levels of work efficiency. Some economists maintain that there is evidence that labor already is overpaid, in some cases as much as 50 per cent, in consideration of work habits and union practices of holding down output.

Another reason why a general wage boost would retard national recovery is that consumer goods would have to undergo another price hike. Already there is indication of a tendency on the part of buyers to delay purchases, to shop around, to discard inferior quality.

It takes only a little of such consumer resistance to pile up inventories, and excess inventories result in laying off workers.

Labor may have overplayed its hand in the present coal crisis, may have demanded too much pay for too little work, at a moment when the national economy cannot stand too much strain. If so, it is likely that Lewis, though perhaps wholly sincere in an effort to raise standards for his miners, has hurt the cause he seeks to serve.

The procedure of John L. Lewis in the current controversy suggests that of the humorous Artemus Ward, who announced in a similar situation that he intended to "fight it out on this line if it took the last drop of his blood relations."

REMOVAL OF STAINS FROM TABLE LINENS ONE HOLIDAY TASK

Cleaning up after holiday dinner may involve the job of removing stains from table linens. Such stains should be removed as promptly as possible and always before the linens go into the general wash, says Eva Sue Merrill, home demonstration agent.

Many stains, easily removed by prompt, correct treatment, may be removed by the heat and soap of regular laundering. Methods for removing some common dinner table stains are described by Miss Merrill.

Thickened gravy which has dried on the cloth should be scraped off with a dull knife, and the spot sponged with cold or like warm water. If grease spots still remain, they should be treated with a grease solvent, and the cloth washed in warm suds and rinsed.

Crabapple and other fruit stains may be removed by pouring boiling water over the cloth, followed by a drop of lemon juice and a thorough rinsing in cool water.

To take off an ice cream stain, consideration must be given to all the ingredients. Cool water will remove egg, sugar and often milk, but the grease left by the cream must be sponged out with a grease solvent. Therefore, the first step is sponging with cold water and gentle rubbing; the second step—after the fabric dries—is sponging with the solvent and rubbing; last step, washing with warm soapsuds and a thorough rinsing.

Grease solvent will also be necessary to take out candlewax stains. The wax must be scraped off first, and the solvent applied with a sponge or soft cloth. The solvent should always be allowed to evaporate until the cloth is dry.

Rooming House for Aged Visited By Methodist Class

When members of the Young Women's Bible class of First Methodist church called at the rooming house of Mrs. W. H. Hilliard on Tuesday evening, the blind proprietress met them at the door and invited them into a room filled with elderly people who room there. The visitors carried trays from which there were presenting fruits and candies to those in the living room and to the bedridden patients upstairs and down, when a knock was heard at the door, and in walked Santa Claus in person carrying a huge well-filled sack. Santa then made the rounds, distributing Christmas gifts of various kinds and dispensing words of good cheer to the aged residents of the home, many of whom were more than 90 years of age.

The visitors led the group in a number of Christmas carols, until an elderly gentleman requested that they sing old-fashioned hymns, such as "Amazing Grace" and others equally as memory-stirring. The gentleman who requested the hymns and who assisted in leading them, stated that he would still enjoy singing the old hymns if the visitors sang until he died.

The fifteen members of the Young Women's class who provided a bit of Yuletide cheer for the aged men and women, included Miss Hortense Davison, teacher of the class, and Mrs. Homer E. Gardner, who took the role of Santa Claus.

TRUMAN

He refused to be drawn into a discussion of the administration's future policy toward John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, against whom the government is waging a court fight.

Mr. Truman told questioners the Lewis matter was in the courts and he would have nothing to say about the mine workers' leader or about the recent coal strike.

Three Messages Planned.

The president said he would send separately to the new Republican-controlled congress

State of the Union legislative message, a message on the budget and a third message based on the report to be made soon by his economic advisory (maximum employment) council.

These messages, the president said, will be sent to Capitol Hill on separate days.

Asked whether he saw any chance for reduction of taxes, the president said he did not want to discuss what recommendations he will make.

Forces Merger Sought.

He did say, however, that he will renew his request for a merger of the armed forces as one point in his State of the Union message.

Told that there had been reports he proposed to recommend modification of the Wagner Labor Relations act, the president replied bluntly that nobody had a right to quote him until he made public his message to Congress.

The house committee on post war economic policy and planning added its voice today to the congressional clamor for new labor policies.

In its final report the 18-member group, composed of both Democrats and Republicans called for "constructive—not punitive" laws to eliminate labor-management disputes and at the same time caution against a depression psychology.

"There is nothing wrong with the country that hard work and resultant production will not cure," the committee commented. "Considering everything, there is no necessity for either a depression or recession."

Depression Talk Assailed.

"Low talk of depression and recession is unjustified and serves no good purpose," the report said. It added:

"A start has been made toward the goal of sustained high employment. The task ahead is to develop economic conditions which will encourage stability of productive employment at a high level."

Productivity, it said, is "the real solution for many of the nation's economic problems" and "active cooperation between management and labor" is necessary to eliminate "immediately current difficulties and "avoid a recession."

Among other things the committee called for:

Goals Are Set.

1. An end to CPA's general powers next January 31, with strict controls continuing through 1947.

2. Cutting the current $41,000,000 federal budget to $30,000,000, with "some reduction" in taxes and the national debt.

3. Across the capitol, however, Senator Warren F. (D-Va.) one of congress' chief economic advocates, declared there should be no tax reduction at all in 1947.

Tax Cut Opposed.

Byrd told reporters it would be "reckless" to cut taxes until congress makes sure the government has been placed on a stable financial basis.

If the national income should drop from its present $185,000,000 a year level to $100,000,000, he figured, the tax yield would shrink from $39,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Byrd said that sum would be insufficient to meet even the three most basic obligations of government: $5,000,000,000 for interest on the public debt, $12,000,000,000 for national defense, and $7,000,000,000 for veterans.

The Nathan report drew the assertion from Walter B. Welschbauer, executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, that it means "an invitation for a new round of wage demands, possibly followed by another series of serious strikes."

Wage Boasts Possible.

Nathan, replying to reporters' questions on his latest report, said he still felt the spring wage boosts could have been granted without price increases and added the same situation is true now.

There was no immediate AFL comment. But the AFL convention in Chicago last October criticized spring demands on industry as too high and contended the CIO wage increases were responsible for breaking the line on price ceilings.

The AFL convention said its unions obtained pay increases without strikes and without "in any case breaking price ceilings."

"There is nothing wrong with the country that hard work and resultant production will not cure," the committee commented. "Considering everything, there is no necessity for either a depression or recession."

Depression Talk Assailed.

"Low talk of depression and recession is unjustified and serves no good purpose," the report said. It added:

"A start has been made toward the goal of sustained high employment. The task ahead is to develop economic conditions which will encourage stability of productive employment at a high level."

Productivity, it said, is "the real solution for many of the nation's economic problems" and "active cooperation between management and labor" is necessary to eliminate "immediately current difficulties and "avoid a recession."

Among other things the committee called for:

Goals Are Set.

1. An end to CPA's general powers next January 31, with strict controls continuing through 1947.

2. Cutting the current $41,000,000 federal budget to $30,000,000, with "some reduction" in taxes and the national debt.

3. Across the capitol, however, Senator Warren F. (D-Va.) one of congress' chief economic advocates, declared there should be no tax reduction at all in 1947.

Tax Cut Opposed.

Byrd told reporters it would be "reckless" to cut taxes until congress makes sure the government has been placed on a stable financial basis.

If the national income should drop from its present $185,000,000 a year level to $100,000,000, he figured, the tax yield would shrink from $39,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Byrd said that sum would be insufficient to meet even the three most basic obligations of government: $5,000,000,000 for interest on the public debt, $12,000,000,000 for national defense, and $7,000,000,000 for veterans.

He has been considering for some time a revision of contracts over transient hotel room rates and has authorized numerous adjustments of individual rent ceilings on showings that present maximums are inequitable.

The President said that he is having an overall conference on the housing program late today.

Three Messages Planned.

The president said he would send separately to the new Republican-controlled congress

State of the Union legislative message, a message on the budget and a third message based on the report to be made soon by his economic advisory (maximum employment) council.

These messages, the president said, will be sent to Capitol Hill on separate days.

Asked whether he saw any chance for reduction of taxes, the president said he did not want to discuss what recommendations he will make.

Forces Merger Sought.

He did say, however, that he will renew his request for a merger of the armed forces as one point in his State of the Union message.

Told that there had been reports he proposed to recommend modification of the Wagner Labor Relations act, the president replied bluntly that nobody had a right to quote him until he made public his message to Congress.

The program featured Verdi's "Requiem," which was recently presented by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra and the Verdi Choir of North Texas State College of Denton.

Mrs. Gilcrease was accompanied to Austin by her brother, N. O. Williams, and wife of Waco.

BILBO

Bilbo was barred from cross-examination witnesses.

Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) announced this ruling as a Senate War Investigating sub-committee opened public hearings here with Bilbo and his attorney, Forrest B. Jackson of Jackson, Miss., on hand.

Jackson asked wherein he or Bilbo might question the witnesses.

Mead replied that the committee would "not allow cross examination to the place" because it "did not like to give authority transferred to anyone not a member of the committee."

Both Mead and Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) suggested that if Bilbo or his attorney had any questions they wished asked of witnesses, the questions could be presented in writing to the committee.

Opening the hearing, Chairman Mead said that the War Investigating committee has "instructed us to ascertain the truth with respect to alleged transactions between members of the Senate and certain war contractors."

He noted that a preliminary investigation has been made of complaints against Senator Bilbo and that as a result the full committee "was of the opinion that the facts as developed warranted a full investigation and unanimously instructed this subcommittee to conduct it."

Charges have been made that a group of war contractors gave Bilbo more than $30,000 in cash, a new home, and automobile and other things.

CONFERENCE STUDIES RETURN OF ALLEGED SLAYER FROM BRAZIL

DALLAS, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Montague county officials may confer with Gov. Stevenson today on means of extraditing Irvin Goodspeed, 28-year-old merchant seaman and ex-convict, from Santos, Brazil, for trial on charges of murder.

A Montague county grand jury yesterday handed up a murder indictment against Goodspeed in connection with the slaying of Martin T. Camp, North Texas newspaper distributor.

Chief J. L. Jackson and county Attorney Marvin F. London of Montague county, accompanied by Texas Ranger R. V. Badgett, stopped here last night en route to Austin. They said they had a copy of the indictment to present to Stevenson and would ask that Goodspeed be extradited.

Stevenson has disclosed that the U. S. Department of State informed him that this country's extradition treaty with Brazil had expired and has not been renewed because of Brazil's objection to capital punishment.

Stevenson said he had been advised that unless Goodspeed agreed to return voluntarily the only way

ADVICE GIVEN FOR PREVENTION, CURE OF ATHLETE'S FOOT

AUSTIN, Dec. 12.—(Spl.)—The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth.

Therefore the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ. To have athlete's foot, the infection must start either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"The most common places to contact the infection are around shower rooms, bathe or bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all cases come from the infection at some time."

Dr. Cox suggested the following as some effective measures for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:

1. After bathing, dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.

2. Liberally apply a plain, unscented talcum to those areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, stockings, and shoes.

3. Wear properly fitting hose that are absorbent but not too coarse.

4. Wear shoes that are not too tight, nor too large. They should fit the foot comfortably.

Trial Halted Because One Party Is Sick

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Because of the illness of Mrs. J. A. Henry, the beneficiary, Judge A. O. Newman yesterday halted the trial of a suit contesting the will of her late husband and dismissed the jury. Judge Newman did not immediately reset the trial.

The will, which involved an estate estimated at $100,000, is being contested by Robert J. Henry, a son of the late Brownwood merchant by a previous marriage. He alleges that J. A. Henry lacked testamentary capacity due to the illness which caused his death.

ROBERTS

In one respect the Albanian incident adds from the greater loss of life, is of greater significance than the Tito affair, for Russian control in Albania is much more direct than in Yugoslavia.

In Albania reliable reports have it that Russians actually occupy the key positions. After last year's so-called elections the United States and Britain withheld recognition of the government. The Russians, however, not only jumped aboard the Hoxa bandwagon, but apparently took over the reins. Russian Minister Dimitri Tchuvakin arrived last January with a staff of experts which one source counted at 400, and the number has been reported greatly augmented since.

There have been additional reports of non-Russian army units and hundreds of officers from the cadre of the new Albanian army, which is reported to total some 100,000 men out of a total population of 1,000,000.

For a time there was a general hope that the Corfu men would turn out to be war left-overs, and the explosions accidental. In the face of the British evidence and the absence of any clearcut Albanian denial, this hope has faded.

JR-COLLEGE CHORAL CLUB AND A CAPELLA CHOIR GIVE PROGRAM

The Navarro Junior college Choral club and acapella choir entertained the Civitan club Thursday night with a program of readings and Christmas carols.

The group read first "Song of the Pilgrim" telling of the men and women who settled Texas and the hardships of their lives.

The newly-organized choir, under the direction of Miss Margaret Pannill, did credit to itself and the college with several Christmas carols which were enthusiastically received. M. S. Cook and John Gandy comprised the program committee which brought the group to the city.

Plans for the Tiger Loyalty Banquet, which the club sponsors, were completed, and Clark Butler topped the ticket sellers, disposing of 50 tickets.

CORPORATION COURT NEWS

Two motorists paid fines for overhanging parking and one car was tagged for blocking a sidewalk.

Police, D. E. Nowell, rushed to the scene and promised an investigation. Crowds watched rescue efforts from nearby rooftops and police roped off nearby streets.

Among those listed as missing were a mother, Mrs. Edith Difesa, 31, and three children, Charles, 12; Margaret, 5, and Mary, 8, months.

The collapse came 15 minutes after the fire broke out at 12:10 a. m. Charles Whitecroft, nearby resident, said the falling wall "felt like an earthquake," and was followed by "terrible screaming of children."

After the collapse firemen heard frantic cries from the ruins and were able to drag out a number of victims.

Needed Raincoat—Took It

Three days of incessant rains proved too much for a negro Wednesday.

Clad in a zoot suit with blue stripes, a young negro passed by D. E. Stander's store at 111 East Fifth avenue, paused momentarily, took off his hat, then at his previous zoot suit, he nabbed an article of clothing and ran.

Stander reported to the police a size 42 Army issue raincoat with a patch on the back as the stolen article.

John W. Gunstream, formerly with the State Department of Education, was in Corsicana on Wednesday evening to address the Navarro County Teachers' Association, which met in the county courtroom.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(AP)—A voice from the clover-laden all along the banks of the Wabash lifts itself above the monodrome-policed clamor of Manhattan to deny that the old-fashioned country general store has moved to town.

Answering a recent lament in this column that city slickers had stolen the cheese-and-cracker trade from the rural folk, it turned into a nonchalance. Look! Next A. Gandy, proprietor of Gandy's General Store at Edinburg, Ind., wrote this refreshing rebuttal:

"Still Country Store."

"The old country store is still present in a big way, plus its old-fashioned Republican and its die-hard Democrat, both going strong with the pot-bellied stove. Might be their combined draft!

"Election prophecies, weather forecasts and crop estimates still come to town, though John Lewis, Joe Louis and football. The telephone still hangs on the wall, and the spittin' tobacco cutts the Camellia which created so many pedestrans."

"Ketchup, cheese bubbles and castor oil run a close second to bologna, bull durham and butter-milk in gross sales."

"A sign proclaims that the grocer is paying thirty-four cents a dozen for good eggs and fourteen cents for bad ones. Another sign immediately recall their ambassadors and ministers from Franco Spain.

"Polish delegate Oscar Lange sought to have the Spanish debate postponed because of light attendance at the session but was voted down 21 to 18.

Long Meeting Possible

The sub-committee on arms reduction drove ahead with its work as assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium announced he would not be able to attend.

"The meeting will stay in New York until Christmas 1948" if necessary to break the stalemate over the arms reduction and troop census plans.

Spaak had said yesterday he would sail for home Saturday regardless of whether the assembly had finished its business.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was reported ready to intervene in the discussions for the first time but probably not before tomorrow.

Byrnes to Speak

An announcement that Byrnes would state the U. S. position on these two questions at an "appropriate" time heightened speculation that he might appear before the sub-committee today.

American sources indicated, however, that if Byrnes felt the sub-committee could reach agreement without his participation he would delay his statement until the issue came before a plenary session.

British to Blame

American sources said they felt Britain proposed to link the arms question with the troop census was responsible for an agreement on a world arms reduction program.

As the situation now stands the sub-committee will attempt to formulate an arms reduction program, and once that is out of the way will take up the British proposal calling for restoration of a supervisory commission to check exports on arms and troops.

After leading through the first half, the Bulldogs of Navarro Junior college fell before the superior power of the Hillsboro Junior college Indians, 39-32 in a game played there Wednesday night.

Charley Smith led the locals in scoring with seven field goals for high point honors. Beldfield of Hillsboro with four field goals and one gratis point was second high.

Yanks Bring Christmas To Japanese

By TOM LAMBERT
AP News Writer

TOKYO—This land of lotus blossoms, in which Santa Claus is a comparative stranger, will be a land of Christmas observances, festivals, Christmas trees and oriental celebrations as hundreds of Americans mark their first Yule season in Japan.

This is the second Christmas in this country for Allied occupation forces, but the first for hundreds of wives and children who began streaming out here immediately after the army cleared their way—and still are arriving.

Dependents are spread from Hokkaido on the north, to Kyushu, the southernmost island, from bases along Japan's Pacific shoreline to camps fronting on the Japan sea.

Many are assured of snow for the "White Christmas" touch, but Hokkaidoans will have most snow on that island sometimes engulfing the houses.

Here in Tokyo there will be special midnight Masses, Christmas

COMMITTEE WILL MAKE POSED HEATING CHANGE INVESTIGATION OF PRO-

Discussions relative to changing from the use of coal stoves to fuel oil or gas, at all schools were held at the December session of the Corsicana Board of Education Tuesday afternoon, and a committee was appointed by Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president, to investigate the situation and report back to the board. Approval of the securing of a census trustee was made and other matters were discussed. All members were present except Doyl L. West.

W. S. Bingham again will be the census trustee. He will be paid six cents each for the first 2,500 names enumerated and 10 cents each for the others.

Christmas Holidays

Supt. Norwood said that a holiday set aside for use if desired during the Fall had not been used and an additional day would be added to the Christmas Holidays. He said classes would be dismissed for the Yule-Tide Holidays Thursday, December 19. The teachers will be paid two-thirds of a month's pay before Christmas.

The school executive reported that there had been an unpleasantness involving several Waxahachie football players against Corsicana lads at the Corsican-Waxahachie game in the past Fall. The athletic association dispatched a protest to the Waxahachie authorities, and the Waxahachie superintendent had come to Corsicana to investigate the incident. The local school board will be host to the District PTA congress at a dinner here for the managers and board members here next Spring.

All Rooms In Use

All rooms at the Robert E. Lee school are now in use, the superintendent advised the board, but two rooms could be provided in the auditorium if the school. Additional classroom construction was mentioned but no action was taken.

Reports by the superintendent covered meetings in the auditorium, the financial and attendance records and the cafeteria operation. Rental of Tiger Field for Class B and Navarro Junior College football games was reported, and it was voted to allow the junior college to use the junior high gymnasium when it was not in use by the high school for a rental of
